

HD 360° streaming solution with active viewer and integrated video insights tools to simplify your in-facility projects

We mean it when we say “we will handle everything for you and your clients.” We specialize in providing you with the latest 360° viewing technology available today so there is no bad seat in the house. CCam focus is a lightweight plug & play solution you can easily use in a focus group facility, an office conference room, a hotel setting, or for in-home ethnography.

Our ‘active viewer’ feature lets you see the most recent speaker’s face while they are talking, enabling you to capture the nuances of both facial expression and thought. And along with our Civicom full support and service, you don’t have to worry about installation headaches and post-session deliverables.
